UNITED STATES AND ENGLAND

Friction Between America and Mother Country said to be Imminent

DIFFICULT MATTER

Wilson Will Act Energetically in Cases of Interference With American Shipping.

Washington, Aug. 28—The farther the United States gets away from trouble with Germany, the nearer she approaches to friction with Great Britian, diplomats here declare.

Nobody believes the impending Anglo-American controversy will result in a severance of diplomatic relations as it was feared the German-American difference of opinion might do, but it is expected that the argument with the British will be very hard to settle, nevertheless.

It is agreed on all sides that one of the first things the Administration will be bound to do, after Germany has met America's wishes relative to the submarine warfare complications, will be to act energetically in the matter of British interference with American shipping on the high seas.

Not only, it was pointed out, will the Washington Government be under an implied obligation to Germany to adopt as firm a tone toward the London foreign office as it employed to the Kaiser, but American interests which have suffered through the allies' "paper" blockade of the German coast unquestionably will insist on this.

The President will not be in a position to resist the demand, international experts say. They say they do not think he would wish or try to do so.

Many doubts are expressed, however, that the British will yield as considerably to Washington officialdom's surprise, Germany is doing.

While it is generally accepted that the situation is not such as to threaten the same kind of a show-down with Great Britain as was threatened with Germany, yet many men in official circles hold that it is likely the Administration might yet be compelled to consider what the American cotton growers have all along been demanding an embargo against any and all American shipments to the allies in retaliation for the order in council.

GIRL ACCUSES NEGRO

Annabel Denny Tells Story Of Fighting Assailant

Easton, Md., Aug. 28—Robert Smith, a young negro, is in jail here on the charge of having assaulted Annabel Denny, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert L. Denny, at her home near Royal Oak last Tuesday night, and the feeling against against the accused here in the county is so strong that State's Attorney Charles J. Battler is tryingto arrange for a speedy trial in order to prevent lynching.

The story of the assault did not get out until yesterday because Mr. Denny, though informed by daug-hter when he returned home, kept the matter quiet. He was greatly enraged and would have shot the negro had the latter been caught. Mrs. Denny came to Easton Thursday night and preferred the charge. Yesterday morning Sheriff Sewell and Deputy Sheriff Stevens went to Smith's house and found him in bed. The prisoner was brought to Easton, and after a hearing before Police Justice Tharp he was locked up for safe-keeping, the neighborhood of Royal Oak being aroused and threats uttered against the accused.

According to the story told by the girl, she was sitting in her father's bedroom on the ground floor reading Tuesday night when the negro entered and attacked her.

U. S. AWAITING CARRANZA'S MOVE

"Show Down" In Mexican Situation Said to be at Hand

MAY ACT DEFIANTLY

Leader Regard His Case as Lost in Pan-American Convention—Wants The Lion's Share.

Washington, Aug. 28— On the eve of Carranza's "evacuation" of Vera Cruz as his capital and his occupancy of Mexico City as the seat of the constitutionalist government, it is believed a "show down" in the Mexican situation is imminent.

For weeks, the possibility of a challenge to the Pan-American conference by Carranza from his Mexico City stronghold has been regarded as possible, and with Carranza practically driven against the wall and his claims to the Presidency of Mexico ignored, the situation is believed to hold any possibility.

State Department officials have intimated that Carranza's request that the Pan-American diplomats indicate whether or not they acted with authority of their governments, probably will be ignored. A message may be sent to Consul Silliman, at Vera Cruz, asking him to call Caranza's attention to the fact the official titles of the diplomats were affixed to the appeal, but even this is regarded as unlikely.

Carranza, it is believed, regards his case as already lost in the Pan-American court. He understands, officals declare, that he will not receive the lion's share of representation in the new Mexican government, and realizes that this present attitude will avail little, it is believed here that he might challenge the Pan-American conference to interfere in Mexico at the cost of a conflict with Carranza authority.

In this event, it is pointed out the Administration would have two potent weapons. It would be a fairly easy matter to cut off Carranza's arms supply from the United States and from Central and South American countries and to recognize the choice of the other faction leaders in Mexico and accord them sufficient "active moral support" to enable them to eliminate the "first chief" without the United States engaging directly in the elimination process.

Smith, 3b.; Chamberlin, cf; J. Smith, p. and ss; Tennyson. utility player, will tackle the Cardinals, Sunday, at 2:30 p. m. The Trinity lads recently trounched theClarendon Regulars and are coming here to try and even up matters with the Cardinals for the jolt handed them in the ninth inning when they played here early in July, at which time they had a safe lead until Dick Snowden hit the ball and drove it to unknown regions and won the game for his team in the last inning.

The Cardinals are anxious to trim the Georgetown boys and will have a strong team on the field, with their probable choice for pitching duties either Eddie Thompson or Ray Rischoff with McBride catching.

FRENCH AVIATORS AT WORK

Attack Railroad Station in Grand Duchy of Baden.

Paris, Aug. 28—French aviators continue their activities against certain positions in possession of the Germans in the eastern portions of the French line, according to announcement made by the French war office. German aviators also are taking offensive measures in this territory.

French airmen have bombarded two railroad stations in the Argonne in German possession, and German aviators have thrown down explosives on Clermont-en-Argonne.

A French aviator Thursday night bombarded at Dornach, a plant where the Germans manufactured asphyxiating gases, and yesterday a French squadron of airships bombarded the railroad station at Muelheim, in the grand duchy of Baden. All the French fliers returned unharmed.

The official report says:

"During the night of August 26 our aviators bombarded St. Baussant and Essey, in the Woevre district. In the Argonne section the railroad stations at Ivoiry and Cierges also were bombarded by French aeroplanes. This followed an attempt on the part of the German aviators on Clermenten-Argonne. The bombs thrown down on this position, however, by the Germans caused no damage.

"During the night of August 26-27 a French aviator threw ten shells on a factory at Dornach, where the Germans have been manufacturing asphyxiating gases.

"During the morning of today a French squadron of aeroplanes bombarded the railroad station and the electric power plat at Muelheim in the grand duchy.

KILLS AN AUTOMOBILIST

Widly-Known Camden County Farmer and Politician is Run Down at a Grade Crossing

Philadelphia, Aug. 23—Harry E. Horner, a well to do farmer living at the corner of the Burlington turnpike and Cove road in Pensauken township, was killed and Mrs. J. Elvin Scott, of Merchantville, was probably fatally injured last night when Horner's automobile, in which they were riding, was struck by a Jersey City express train of the Pennsylvania Railroad at a crossing below West Palmyra. They had been out to attend to some real estate business and were returning home when the tragedy occurred. The road at that point turns sharply to cross the railroad at grade, and it is believed that Horner did not hear nor see the train approaching.

GERMANY'S ASSURANCE.

Count von Bernstorff Delivers Official Communication.

Germany's intention to offer full satisfaction to the United States for the sinking of the liner Arabic with a loss of two American lives was communicated formally to the State Department yesterday by Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, on instructions from the Berlin foreign. office

The Ambassador read to Secretary Lansing a memorandum outlining the position of his government. It promised that if it was found that the Arabic was attacked without warning, the imperial government not only would promptly disavow the act, but would give the United States "full satisfaction." This, it is well known, would have to include reparation for the Americans lost and assurance that such tragedies would not be repeated.

MINISTER IS FINED

Arraigned on Charges Made by Little Girls.

Baltimore, Aug. 27—Accused by two little girls and with three other witnesses against him, the Rev. Thomas Wood, 58 years old, pastor of a Christian Church at Big Run, Pa., was arrested in Carroll Park late yesterday afternoon, and after a hearing before Justice Schirm, at the Southwestern Police Station, was fined $50 and costs.

He was found guilty of improper conduct toward the complainants. The accused denied the charges, and said he was merely acting friendly toward the girls.

GERMANS KEEP UP OFFENSIVE

Invaders Report They Are in Full Possession of Brest-Litovsk Line

AFTER THE RAILROADS

Russians Use Torch as They Fall Back—Carry Away Everything Portable—Teuton Losses.

London, Aug. 28—The Germans, in full possession of the entire Brest-Litovsk line, have resumed the offensive in the Baltic provinces and are pressing the Russians both in the districts southeast of Mitau and to the east of Kovno in an effort to reach the main line of railway which passes through Vilna and Dvinsk to Petrograd. This may, in time, prove the most important of the German operations, although at present they are using more troops in the pursuit of the Russians, who are retiring from Brest-Litovsk and the line on either side of the fortress.

It is expected, however, that with the fall of Brest-Litovsk, which has been followed by that of Olita, south of Kovno, the armies of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg will be reinforced and make another attempt to cut off the retreat of the Russians.. It is believed here, however, that it now is too late to accomplish this purpose

The Russians apparently had evacuated both Brest-Litovsk and Olita before the Germans arrived, as the latter make no claim to the capture of guns and booty. The Austrian official report states that Archduke Joseph Ferdinand found the town of Kamieniez-Litovsk in flames when he arrived. There are indications, therefore, that theRussians still are carrying to the rear everything movable that might prove of use to the invaders and burning what they are unable to take with them.

The intimation that the Russians have fortified another front pending an opportunity for a renewed offensive has received some confirmation. It is stated that the new line is being strengthened by all the latest method known to military engineers. The Russian armies still are intact, with virtually all their guns and prospects of a more plentiful supply of ammunition. For this reason military writers here are of the opinion that Grand Duke Nichols now should be able to make a stand, as the Austro-German losses must have been very heavy, especially during the three weeks which intervened between the fall of Warsaw and the occupation of Brest-Litovsk.

The capture of several German trenches in the Vosges was reported by Paris yesterday, but what is considered more significant is the continued activity of the air squadron, which has been bombarding German positions in France as well as munitions factories across the German border.

There has been no further news from the Dardanelles or the Balkans, but it now is certain that Serbia is prepared to make the necessary sacrifices to satisfy Bulgaria and gain her co-operation in behalf of the Allies. It may be several days, however, before the Serbian reply to the representations of the entente powers is received.

The vote of the Serbian Parliament was only upon the principle involved an negotiations now are proceeding between Serbia, Greece and Rumania regarding the exact nature of the concessions to be made Bulgaria.

TO URGE PREPAREDNESS

Governors Not Alarmed, But Want Defenss Strengthened

Boston, Aug. 28—After discussion of the naval and military resources of the country, in which it was generally agreed that the United States was not adequately prepared against foreign invasion, the Conference of Governors ended its annual sessions yesterday. No resolutions on the subject were proposed but several of the executives said they felt certain that all the Governors would return to their States with the intention of demanding from their Congressmen support in any program for strengthening the forces of defense.

The Governors chose Salt Lake City as the place for next year's meeting, and elected the Governor of Utah, William Spry, as chairman of the executive committee. Other Committee members elected were Gov. Henry C. Stuart of Virginia, and Governor Arthur Capper, of Kansas. Former Governor John Franklin Fort of New Jersey, was again chosen treasurer, and Miles C. Riley of Madison, Wis. was elected secretary.

The conference program, which included a review of the Atlantic fleet and a parade of 7,000 members of the Massachusetts militia, had aroused great interest in today's discussion. As a result, the sessions were removed from the Senate Chamber to the more spacious hall of the House of Representatives, where a large audience followed the addresses with frequent applause.

The discussion by the Governors was prefaced by remarks from Secretary of Commerce William C. Redfield, speaking, not in behalf of the Administration, but as a member of it, he said. Secretary Redfield urged restraint of speech and soberness of thought in what he termed these trying times.

RUSSIA WILL STRIKE

Muscovites Expect to Resume Offensive Soon.

Petrograd, Aug. 28—Russian military experts predict a sudden blow by Grand Duke Nichoals after the Austro-German armies have advanced far enough into Russian territory to prevent their escape if decisively beaten. No one attempts to say where this blow will be struck, but they campare the present situation with that of the allies in September 1914, when the Germans, advancing victoriously in France, met defeat on the River Marne.

"One might expect," says the military critic of the Bourse Gazette, "that the loss of our greatest fortress would cause dismay at the war office. One the contrary, the men responsible for the successful conduct of the conflict never appeared more optimistic.

"This can lead to but one belief—that the Russian armies, successfully withdrawn from the traps set by the Kaiser and his commanders, are awaiting only the favorable moment to strike their blow, which will upset all the Teutonic schemes."

The Novoe Vremya's expert takes a similar view of the situation. He gives assurances that the replenishing of the munition stores is proceeding with such rapidity that within a month the Russian armies will be in a position to act aggressively and surprise the hostile armies which "hope to strike fear into the heart of Russia and force this country into an ignominious peace."

"It is the enemy who is wasting his ammunition. The Russians are conserving theirs. The end can easily be foreseen. Our forces will emerge from this ordeal stronger than ever before. The Russian morale cannot be terrified."

INDUSTRIAL DISCONTENT

Low Wages Alleged to be Cause of Present Troublous Times

ENEMIES OF UNIONS

Chairman Walsh Denounces Big Employers of Great Wealth Who Oppose Organization of Men.

Chicago, Aug. 28—"We find the basic cause of industrial dissatisfaction to be low wages. Or, stated in another way, the fact that the workers of the nation, through compulsory and oppressive methods, legal and illegal, are denied the full product of their toil."

This sums up the report to Congress, given out today by Chairman Frank Walsh, of the now extinct Federal Industrial Relations Commission. It comprises the personal findings of Walsh and is signed by Commissioners Lennan, O'Conell and Garretson.

The report denounces big employers of great wealth who refuse to permit the unionization of their employes, and "who pay small wages to breadwinners of families, while they enjoy plenty, although they never even visit their shops".

It makes the rather stratling declaration that "unrest among the workers in industry has grown to proportions that already menace the social good will and peace of the nation."

The report scores the employment of the State militia in strike situations, declaring that this method "has bred a bitter hostility to the militia system among numbers of labor organizations, and States have been unable to enlist wage-earners for this second line of the nation's defense."

It declares employers "from coast to coast have created and maintained small, private armies of armed men to supress striking employes by deporting imprisoning, assaulting, and killing their leaders."

The employer system is declared to be one of the greatest formenters of suspicion and distrust among workers for their employers. Court legislatures and governors, the report charges, have been rightfully accused of serving the employers to defeat justice and pervert the institutions of the country.

"Citizens numbering millions," say the report, "smart under a sense of injustice and oppression. We find the unrest described to be but the latest manifestation of the age-long struggle of the race for freedom of opportunity for every individual to live his life to its highest ends.

RETURN OF THE FIREMEN

Alexandria Boys Bring Home Big Red Ribbon From Convention at Covington

The sixty Alexandria firemen who have been attending the annual meeting of the Virginia State Fireman's Association held in Covington, Va., returned home this morning bringing with them the big red ribbon indicating that they had carried off the second prize for having the largest number and best appearing companies in line in the parade which took place on Thursday. The Alexandria boys reached home at seven o'clock tired but happy over their victory and delighted at the entertainment which had been given them by the people of Covington.

The Alexandria firemen tied Hampton firemen for the second prize. Harrisonburg was easily the winner of the first prize. The next convention will go to Harrisonburg.

An accident, in which J. W. Bateman, of the Luray fire company, competing in the tournament sustained a frightful gash in the side, threw a damper on the crowd attending the convention yesterday, but night, with the great fireworks set off from a mountain on the outskirts of the town the festive spirit returned and the thronged streets were merry. Confetti was everywhere.

There was rain through the morning from 8 o'clock and a let-up did not come until 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Despite the rain that was falling at the time, the reel races were started at 2 o'clock. The course was over the paved roadway in front of the railway station, and the length of all events was 450 yards. An electric starter was used. Race association companies only were entered.

It was in one of these events that J. W. Bateman, of the Luray team, slipped on the wet pavement and fell under the reel cart. The wheels passed over his body, cutting a bad gash in his side. He was given immediate surgical attention, and it is believed he will recover within a few weeks.

The custody of the trumpet and the prize of $100 was won by the Harrisonburg company in 29.4 seconds. Luray won second prize in 30 seconds, Shenandoah and Lexington were third and fourth. In the free-for-all Shenadoah won the $100 prize in 31 seconds. Hot Springs was second in 33.2 seconds; Ashwood, third, and Lexington, fourth.

The fireworks display last night was set off by the Covington firemen. The band concerts were pleasing. Honors went to the Harrisonburg band, under thedirection of Professor Bierton, of Staunton.

MOVE ON DELINQUENTS

Police Will Begin Search Monday For Parties Who Harbor Unlicensed Dogs

The Alexandria police department is preparing a crusade against unlicensed dogs, and next week will be a busy one for the officers and the police justice, as several hundred dog owners will be haled into court and fined for failure to pay the city assessment against their canines. There has been a great decrease in the number of licenses issued this year. Until today there had been 540 licenses issued by City Auditor Price, compared with 639 issued the same day a year ago and 750 two years ago.

The dog question is one of the most annoying which besets the members of the police department. The laws are plain, and there is no one in the city who can plead ignorance of the requirements upon all who desire to harbor animals of the canine species. Yet many persons neglect to take out licenses until forced to do so. It may be stated when they are brought before the court they will be compelled to pay double the amount of a dog license. The fact that a dog has been harbored for a period of fifteen days makes the householder responsible.

WANING OF THE SUMMER.

Alexandrians Who Have Sought Cool Retreats Returning Home

But a few days of the summer months of 1915 are left. While there will be some warm weather at times during the next two or three weeks, the power of the sun is waning, and no more protracted heat waves are to be expected.

About the average number of Alexandrians have taken their summer vacations and are returning to their homes invigorated for fall and winter duties. The larger element, however, destined to toil through summer heat and winter snows, have kept on their jobs. Blessed with good health at home, they are about as well off as others who are in positions to drop their occupations and hie themselves to cool retreats during the dog days.

Soon after being brought to jail Wednesday on a disorderly charge, Beulah Price, a 22-year-old white woman, hanged herself to the bars in a detention cell and had she not been discovered opportunely by Station Officer Turner doubtless would have succeeded in her evident intention to kill herself. The woman used her underskirt for a rope and arranged the knots ingeniously.

A Store for Vistors and Home Folks

Washington at all seasons of the year is a rendezous for vistors from all sections of this great republic, and usually from foreign countries.
Yearly, thousands of these strangers pass through our doors and are made to feel welcome and at home in a store that is peculiarly hospitable in a dignified and reserved manner.

If they care to, they may spend a whole day in going from section to section, seeing merchandise from everywhere—for men, for women, for children, for the home—much that is different in storekeeping, enjoying the concerts of the Victrola parlors, the rest and accommodations of the reception rooms, a pleasant hour in the reading parlor of the book store an inspection of the large cold storage vaults on the premises and the large shops devoted to the making and furnishing of better homes, located on the eight floor. Alexandrian's many of them at least, know about these things and make free use of them as they should, though there are many just learning, and many more will.

We extend the services of our Mail Order Department which is throughly capable of carrying out any commission, and is doing it daily.

PRESIDENT'S DIPLOMACY.

The delicate and successful management by President Wilson of the issues between the United States and Germany is being realized not only by people of the United States, but his diplomacy is being admired by other countries. He has closed his eyes to the bellicose gratuitous advice of a former President and the peace-at-any price efferversences of a would-be occupier of the Presidential chair, and has safely conducted his country through what has probably been one of the most delicate situations which has confronted the country in its history. His praises are being sounded by democrats and republicans alike,.

The Daily Standard of Kingston, Ont., under the heading "Peace With Honor" says in part:

"The United States through a reasonable and forebearing diplomatic course has been able to accomplish without bloodshed what might not have been accomplished in months with bloodshed, if some of her jingoes had been in the saddle. She has obtained assurance of safety for her citizens on the high seas and she is to obtain also an apology and reparation.

"President Wilson is to be heartily congratulated on this great triumph of diplomacy, a diplomacy as patient and forbearing as it was wise, and statesman like. The blood of the nation is not now upon his hands, as undoubtedly it would have been upon the hands of a less judicious and temperate man, had such a one occupied the White House instead of Woodrow Wilson.

"Peace has been maintained without loss of national honor to the United States and the government of that country as a consequence stands today more powerful than ever in the judgment of the world as a sane and sober government."

The London papers of today praise the manner in which Mr. Wilson has handled the issues with Germany.

HOW TO BRING THE WAR TO A CLOSE.

A prize of 500 francs ($100) has been offered for the best proposal for arriving at terms of peace by a Swiss newspaper. It has drawn from its readers a number of original suggestions. One is that all members of reigning German houses should be put into the front line in the trenches, accompanied by all deputies of the Prussian Diet, directors of Krupp and members of the Pan-Germanist Association.

In the trenches on the other side should be put the members of the French Camelots du Roi and editors of French nationalist papers. The originator of this suggestion declares that thefirst volley fired after all these gentlemen had been placed in position would insure speedy and satisfactory peace.

A French-speaking Swiss woman proposed that Swiss wives and mothers should band themselves together under their Federal flag, and call to their side women from all the belligerent countries. The whole army then would march along the front, from the Vosges to Arras, and would interview the generals of the three great armies, demanding the restoration of husbands and sons now serving in the ranks.

Forty-five competitors favor the formation of an army of neutrals, which shall force the combatants to listen to reasons.

The first plan suggested is not original. This procedure was recommended in the United States in 1860 when it was seen that war was inevitable. As will be seen elsewhere in the Gazette. some peace loving people in the United States have offered to contribute a sum sufficient to pay the expenses of Theodore Roosevelt to Canada in order that he may enlist with the allies and gratify his thirst for war.

THE SOUTH'S BAR TO IMMIGRATION.

Referring to the lynching of Frank and "other recent barbarous episodes in the South," the Philadelphia Record asks: "Is it any wonder that immigrants avoid that section of the country?"

This is forcible as far as it goes, but it leaves out of sight the chief reasons why the Southern States have attracted little immigration. Lynching, except on the wild frontiers of the West, is comparatively modern, being practically unknown in the Southern States prior to the disturbed period following the war of secession, but the chief bar to immigration to the South has existed more than a hundred years. Between 1800 and 1860 the immigrant did not wish to go South and meet the competition of slave labor, and after the emancipation of the slaves he was equally indisposed to compete with cheap negro labor. Report of lawlessness was no doubt influential in many individual cases, but the average European immigrant has not cared to meet either the slave or the free black labor in the industrial field.

In 1790 Virginia had more than twice the population of New York, while sixty years later New York had more than twice the population of Virginia and had also forged ahead in all industrial lines. Similar was the story of the North and South as a whole during that period—a period in which lynchings were practically unheard of except beyond reach of organized government in the West. The population of the two sections was about equal in 1790, but that of the North was more than double that of the South in 1860. The only reasonable explanation is that the institution of slavery not only restricted the South to argriculture alone but frightened off immigration and thus induced a condition of arrested industrial development.. Such was the result of the presence of the negro as a slave. The result of the presence of the negro in the South as a freeman has been scarcely less marked, remaining an effectual bar to immigration. Until very recent times only a few white laboring men from Europe or the Northern States have been disposed to face the competition that had crushed the Southern "poor whites" for a century. Competition with slavery was followed by a scarcely less unequal competition with a lowered standard of comfort.

Such conditions are now being modified. Negroes are going north, and whites are going South in considerable numbers in response to the call of opportunity involved in the rapid industrial development of sections no longer wholly agricultural but devoted to mining and manufacturing. This modification due to changing industrial conditions, began and progressed during the period of lynching which, as pointed out, is a wholly modern phenomenon so far as the South is concerned. Not a red bar of anarchy of lawlessness, as superficial observers are in too great haste to conclude, but a black bar of negro competition both as slaves and as freemen has, in the main, caused immigrants to turn their faces away from the Southern States.

READERS OF BOOKS IN AMERICA.

Americans are said to be the most omniverous readers in the world, and this would seem to be established by the statistical statement of the United States Board of Education. To say nothing of the vast consumption of newspapers and periodicals nationa. preeminence is indicated by the fact that within five years the number of books in our libraries within reach of the public rose from 55,300,000 to more 75,000,000—an increase of about 20,000,000, or more than one-third. Unfortunately this vast increase is not due to the founding of new libraries, where they are needed, or the desirable expansion of small ones, but is almost entirely due to additions to collections already extensive.

Further proof of too uneven a distribution of books and of readers is furnished by the showing that more than half of the public libraries of the entire country are found in the North Atlantic States, and the four-fifths of the borrowers' cards in use are confined to the North Atlantic and North Central States. To the North Atlantic States went more than half of the total number of new volumes added to all American libraries in the course of one year. Omniverous reading practically confined to one section may involve as much mere "culturine" as real culture, for the books read are in great part fiction and the fiction is in great part trash; but it is obvious that in vast sections of the United States the desirable habit of reading books is still to be acquired and that this is greatly to be regretted.

A considerable falling off in the consumption of tobacco and liquors in the twelve months ending June 30, is indicated by the preliminary report of Commissioner of Internal Revenue Osborn for the fiscal year. The commissioner reported that the ordinary internal revenue collections from these sources was $25,906,291 less than for the preceding fiscal year. Revenue experts explained the decreases as partially due to the tendency of the American people to economize in the period of financial uncertainty which followed the outbreak of the European war.

Daily returns are being made by the assessors in the several counties of the State of the work that has been done in the matter of fixing the values of lands, for the five years begining with this year. There is every reason to believe that the increase will not fall far short of $10,000,000 when the final figures are tabulated.

According to statistics at the general office of the Cincinnati and Ohio Railroad in Covington, 6,156 cars of horses and 720 cars of mules, approximately 220,000 horses and 150,000 mules have been shipped to Newport News, whence they were shipped to the Allies. WOULD "FREE" EUROPE

And the Czar of all the Russias Says Peasants are Back of Him on the Job.

Paris, August 27—An account of an audience granted him by Emperor Nicholas is telegraphed to the Matin by Jean Cruppi, former French minister of foreign affairs:

"Peasants speak to me in affectionate terms and every day I receive from them several addresses, saying: 'Hold firm, for we are all behind thee,'" the Emperor is quoted as saying.

The monarch's voice was firm and clear, M. Cruppi says, as he told of the resolution of all Russians to carry the war to an end until the victory necessary to free Europe is assured.

The Emperor added: "France can count on my immovable will to struggle on until complete victory is achieved."

The above statement was given in November 1910 and on April 9, 1915 Mrs. Byrne said: "I very seldom have any trouble with my kidneys. Just as soon as I notice the least disorder, I take a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pill and they never fail to give quick results. Doan's Kidney Pills are responsible for my present good health."

(a) Referred to a committee of each house, considered by such committee in session, and reported;
